This angular chair by the name of Camilo comes from Argentina and is a recent creation by Claudia Koen and Ernesto Quaglia. The two designers have been making furniture for 15 years, during which time they have developed their own clearly defined concept of space. Camilo is a robust chair made of wood with an upholstered seat and backrest whose special feature is its straight lines and angles.

Japanese designer Fukutoshi Ueno's living environments leave plenty of room for the imagination – the various modular elements in this Dance Suite sofa combination can be arranged at will. The intention of the Brisbane-based designer, who draws his inspiration from the particular quality of light and landscape in Australia, is that the user should feel at one with nature.

Ceramics and textiles from the Danish company Greengate are characterized by their colorful spots, diamonds, stripes, retro-motifs and flower patterns. The Spot Beige series is one example of the traditional colors and shapes preferred by designer Mona Bjørn Christiansen, who is particularly inspired by drawings from the period 1878-1900.
